Foreword

> The word [Progress] selected as our motto indicates most expressively the course laid down for the Herald. It will seek to promote the prosperity and further the march of progress of the whole North-West, by advocating all measures having this for its object, and by making known the vast resources now only awaiting development. And in keeping time with the onward movement, the Herald will always be found at the front.

In this rather extravagant way Patrick Gammie Laurie introduced on August 25, 1878 the first edition of the Saskatchewan Herald— the first newspaper to be published in present day Saskatchewan. The newspaper he founded continued to be published until 1938 but long before it had ceased publication many other newspapers had appeared in Saskatchewan. Some of the newspapers that followed the pioneer trail blazed by the Herald had very short life spans reflecting the vicissitudes of the newspaper business and the extravagant optimism of pioneer journalists, but others survived and are still being published.

The Historical Directory of Saskatchewan Newspapers, 1878-1983 was created to assist historical research. Increasingly newspapers have come to be depended upon as an important source of historical information. Through them it is possible to trace many aspects of the evolution of Saskatchewan society. In a unique way newspapers mirror the changing character of the communities they served documenting day to day events and opinions and reflecting long-term trends. They were an invaluable source of local information for the pioneer and continue, of course, to serve the same function today. Perhaps more importantly but to varying degrees, depending on the availability of wire service and space, newspapers provided the pioneer with information about what was happening outside of the local community. In pre-radio and television days they were often the only source of news. Newspapers are also forums for discussion where the great public issues of the day are debated and the needs of the community made known. Through the short stories and serials they carried particularly in early years, they were a valuable source of entertainment. Advertisements told of the latest fashions or technical developments and special features advised on new ways of doing things on the farm and around the home. Newspapers have played and continue to play an important role in informing and entertaining their readers and because of the contributions they have made to the life of their communities they are an important source of information for historians.

This Directory records the main facts about all the newspapers for which information can be found, that followed in the path begun by The Saskatchewan Herald. The Directory records facts about the birth, life, and death of the newspapers and the names of its publishers, owners and editors. Fortunately for historians the files of many newspapers have survived or survived long enough to be filmed and to be preserved in the offices of the Saskatchewan Archives Board. The availability of these microfilm files is also recorded in the Directory.

The Historical Directory of Saskatchewan Newspapers, 1878-1950 first published in 1951 has long been out of print. Since its original publication much new information about the history of Saskatchewan's newspapers has been located. The Directory was, for these reasons, badly in need of revision and republication if it was to continue to be of use to researchers. We are particularly fortunate that Miss Christine MacDonald who compiled the original publication, and, who recently retired as Legislative Librarian, offered to undertake the necessary research to prepare a new edition of the Directory. The many hours of work she devoted to this project have made it possible to publish this new edition of the Directory which now covers the period up to the end of 1983. We are most grateful to Miss MacDonald for this very significant contribution to historical research in Saskatchewan. It is our hope that this new Historical Directory of Saskatchewan Newspapers, 1878-1983 will be of assistance to all those researching aspects of Saskatchewan's heritage.

Ian E. Wilson
Provincial Archivist

Introduction

The first edition of this Directory was issued by the Saskatchewan Archives Board in 1951. Sources of information on the province's newspapers were much scarcer than now chiefly because the files of newspapers available on microfilm or in the original in the offices of the Archives Board were much more limited in scope. Systematic microfilming of Saskatchewan newspapers did not start until 1948, beginning with the issues of 1943, being the first year available in the five-year holdings of the Legislative Library which formed the basis of the collection. By 1950 the Archives had already borrowed or acquired outright for microfilming earlier runs of newspapers, but these were relatively few. For the period prior to 1943, the compiler was largely dependent on the files of the Provincial Secretary's Department. Saskatchewan's Libel and Slander Act required from every newspaper published in the province an annual return to the Provincial Secretary (since 1981 to the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Affairs) giving the names of the proprietor, editor and publisher. Although the Act was first passed in 1909, the files for the most part dated from 1913. McKim's Directory of Canadian Newspapers and Ayer's Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals were useful, although neither was free from inaccuracies. Stray bits of information were found in biographies, letterheads, early editions of the Canadian Almanac, and references in contemporary newspapers.

For this new edition, sources have greatly expanded. Since 1950, in addition to the continued program of microfilming Saskatchewan newspapers received from the Legislative Library, the Archives has obtained for microfilming from publishers and elsewhere many more back files dating from before 1943. While the mastheads have rarely given complete information, some none, they have often revealed definite or approximate dates of changes in publisher and/or editor. The files of the Provincial Secretary's Department, now of the Corporations Branch, were again consulted. Newspaper indexes compiled in the Legislative Library, Henderson's Directories, local histories, the Saskatchewan Publisher journal, and information from some current publishers or editors have supplied many details not available from other sources.

A compilation of this kind is necessarily imperfect. Exact dates of changes very often have been impossible to establish. While the Libel and Slander Act required that the Provincial Secretary be notified within 10 days after the changes of proprietor, editor, and publisher occurred, this requirement was met in the earlier years only partially and in later years not at all. The Provincial Secretary's Department or the Corporations Branch have rarely been given the date on which a newspaper ceased publication so that often the year of the last return provided the sole clue as to when the paper went out of business. The majority of newspapers which ceased publication before 1943 have disappeared in whole or in part. Many in the Archives collection are incomplete and, in any event, sometimes information about changes appeared neither in the mastheads nor as news items. In some instances, a difference in dates for a particular happening provided by two or more sources have forced the compiler to choose the one which seems to be the most authoritative.

Arrangement of the entries is according to place of publication which is, with very few exceptions, the address of the publisher even if almost all of the production work is carried on elsewhere. If a newspaper has been published in more than one community it appears under the latest place of publication, unless the move occurred very shortly before the paper ceased publication. The name of the place of publication, when it forms part of the name of the paper, is omitted from the entry except when two place names appear in the title. Thus the Grenfell Sun is entered under the place of publication, Grenfell, as Sun. The definite article The is not included in any entry.

Because returns to the Provincial Secretary's Department and to the Corporations Branch have almost always been made in mid-year, when a more exact date has not been established and a change has been noted in consecutive years, it may have occurred in the latter part of the first or the early part of the second.

It has been difficult to establish in every case whether a publication should be classed as a newspaper rather than a periodical. Consequently a few may be found in the Directory which properly should not have been included.

The phrase "to date" in the entries means as of December 1983.

Holdings

Only the holdings of the Saskatchewan Archives Board (as of November 1983) are indicated and the collections of the Regina and Saskatoon Offices are not distinguished as such. Originals are noted when they are not available on microfilm. Less than 1 reel of microfilm is expressed as 1 reel.

Published during the early years as a bilingual paper, then in separate English and French editions. The exact date on which the change took place is difficult to establish because of the way in which the newspaper was filmed. Possibly the distribution of separate editions began with the June 29, 1933 issue when the French edition first appeared in much smaller form.

SAB Filmed as a bilingual paper Apr. 30, 1925, June 23, 1927-Feb. 1, 1934; as a separate French edition July 21, 1932-1966 (very incomplete); as a separate English edition Feb. 8, 1934 (reel begins July 21, 1932)-Feb. 1936; Nov. 1936-1980. 5 reels under L'Étoile including bilingual, then French only editions; 15 reels under Star.

"New Look" In Britain Not Very Apparent

How does Britain look to a visitor in this ninth winter of deprivation, when food rationing has become more severe, and clothing and fuel limitations increasingly difficult to face?

The first thing that strikes the traveller newly arrived in Britain from Canada is probably that the Londoner is not so smart in appearance as he once was. His clothing coupon allowance of 20 in five months permits him to buy, for instance, one pair of shoes, one pair of socks, one shirt, one collar, one tie, one handkerchief and a pair of gloves, and his wife's will allow her a woollen dress and three pairs of hose in the same period. Because a man's suit costs 26 coupons and a woman's 18, and all clothes save hats require coupons, most people must be content with clothes at least several years old, and the "new look" has scarcely appeared on the streets. Girls and women sometimes go without hose, even in cold weather, and shoes are usually bought for long-wearing qualities rather than high fashion.

One of the first objectives of the visitor is obtaining a temporary food ration book which enables him to buy the same amount of rationed foods as the ordinary resident. If a visitor possessing a ration book stays more than two nights in a hotel, he gives the book to the hotel, and since he expects to eat in the hotel or other public restaurants, he is not faced with the problems of the housewife in procuring supplies. In this regard the visitor can scarcely understand the plight of the public in Britain who eat at home on the ration allowance.

Hotels and restaurants, however, are also limited in the amount of supplies they may purchase, and these quantities were reduced in September. The visitor soon finds that even here he is not to be fed according to pre-war standards of hotels in the United Kingdom. Nevertheless, he is

Gray Rink Victors

Shupe Lafoy skipped his Gray rink (G. Hannan, F. Van de Kampe, W. Ashbaugh) to a win over Milestone curlers Friday evening in a Regina rink. Gray, as district playoff winners, will take part in the contest for southern Sask. curling honors after Regina bonspiel.

Milestone won sub-district honors at Rouleau Jan. 13th. The locals won from B. Wilson, Lang, and copped the final against Weckman, Rouleau, in a 13-end game. Other games saw Wilcox defeat Drinkwater and then lose to Rouleau. Personnel of the local rink: Bus Brown (skip), Don McManus, Jack and F. J. Keys.

Farewell Party

Mr. and Mrs. W. . Bradley entertained at their home on Sunday evening at a "farewell" in honor of Rev. and Mrs. D. G. V. Topping who leave shortly for Moose Jaw. They had as their guests members of Holy Trinity church and friends.

During the evening E. Kerney showed motion pictures of their trip to the west coast last summer. Rev. Wm. Keall gave a short farewell address and W. J. Bradley, in behalf of the Anglican Guild, presented the [illegible] with a purse of money. Assisting Mrs. Bradley in serving were Mme. Kerney, D. Rogers, T. P. and W. A. Bradley, C. R. Button, Misses A. and H. Strickland, Betty Smart. The register was signed by 28 guests.

Road Toll

Death claimed 37 victims in Saskatchewan traffic accidents during the period April 1st to Dec. 31st, 1947, compared to a total of 63 in the corresponding period of 1946, according to latest provincial records.

On the 37 killed, 19 were automobile or truck drivers, 16 were passengers, 14 were pedestrians, and the remaining eight included passengers of horse-drawn vehicles, motorcyclists or motorcycle passengers, bicyclists and tractor operators.

In the nine months' period the total number of persons injured dropped from 1,300 in 1946 to 1,148 in 1947, with insurance office reports showing an average of 300 accidents per month where damage was estimated at over $100. Total number of collision claims filed reached 2,700 by the end of the year.

These figures were compiled from reports of accidents and claims made under the provisions of the automobile accident insurance act.

Shortage

No nominations for R. M. Caledonia divisions 5 and 6 councillors were received by Mrs. E. E. Howell, returning officer, at the municipal office last week. With roads badly snow blocked another nomination meeting will probably not be held until spring.

AT REGINA 'SPIEL

Milestone is represented at Regina bonspiel this week by a rink composed of C. A. Garratt, J. L. Fox, O. Fleming, Jesse Pedersen. Another local curler, R. H. Rennick, is playing with a Wilcox foursome.

SOLITARY DONATION

Only donation to Milestone War Memorial Recreation Centre — Rink Bldg. Fund — last week was received from Quigley's Sheet Metal and Plumbing, $7.50.

WILCOX HIGH SCHOOL CURLERS WIN PLAYOFF

Wilcox high school curlers, skipped by R. Lawrence, defeated Colfax, winners of the Gray-Riceton sub-district, at a Regina rink Friday evening. Wilcox won out in this sub-district Jan. 17th on their home ice by defeating the only other entry, Rouleau. Milestone school had a rink entered but blocked roads prevented members from participating.

Playing a friendly game with C. R. Button's rink at the local Curling rink Friday evening, a Corinne foursome—Clarence Brown, George Downing, E. Bratt, E. E. Renwick, lost out 12-5.

Turns Warm

Blizzards, drifting snow and sub-zero temperatures combined to make last week seem as if 1947 was still here. Highways were blocked until Saturday when 39 was opened to Pasqua.

Tuesday morning the mercury dropped to —30° but by noon it had bounced back up to +24°. Which would appear to presage another blizzard if past performances count for anything.

United Church Annual Meeting

The annual congregatio meeting of United Church w held in the church hall on Ja 14th with the minister, Re Wm. Keall presiding. Repo by A. W. Garratt, Sund school; Mrs. Keall, CGI Mrs. M. R. Van Velzer, WM Rev. Keall, Session; we given.

Mr. Keall said that reside members at the year's e were 200, non-resident 47, a appending to roll 39, a total 286. This was a loss of two f the period. Six new membe had been received and eig removed, two by death and s by certificate. Pastoral ca numbered 252, baptisms marriages four, burials fou

Average attendance had n been high and the minist noted a growing tendency use Sunday as a day for bu ness and pleasure rather th for rest and worship. A ne attitude to the church and it stands for is needed if o communities are to maintain high standard of life. Creati of such an attitude is the r sponsibility of all christi people. Regular attendance the weekly diet of worship a refreshment to the spi and a witness to the faith.

Financial report of the Se ior WA was given by Mrs. Ohrt. Mrs. R. Elected to the board stewards were Mrs. Sa Smith, M. R. Van Velzer, R. McKenzie, R. Ames, M. Hersberger, V. C. Thomas, E. Charter, F. R. Bolton, T. Glenn. Mr. Bolton was elect superintendent of the Sund school with Mrs. Ohrt, assi ant. A tasty pot-luck supp was served and entertainme was provided by the CG and others.

WHAT MAKES FOOD PRICES GO UP!

by Lewis Milligan

The high cost of living is one of the perennial problems of modern civilization. Indeed, it may be said to be one of the hall-marks of a progressive civilization, because it is an indication of a rising standard of living. Usually when we speak of the cost of living we are thinking in terms of food, and most of the recent complaints have been about the increased cost of that item in the family budget.

before it reaches the housewife it passes through many hands and processes. First the manufacturer must buy from the farmers. According to government figures he had to pay $2.65 in 1947 for farm products which cost him $1 in 1939. He had to pay $1.80 for the same amount of labour would save four-fifths of a cent!"

Mr. Willis pointed out that the government was indirectly responsible for a large part of the high cost of food. "In the price of everything you buy," he said, "is a goodly sum for taxes paid to federal, state and local governments—chiefly the federal government—which takes almost 28% of the total income of the people. From the time the food leaves

Except for the earlier years these newspapers were composed largely of advertising, entirely from 1978. No complete runs, very short for most, and none for some, were available on microfilm for checking so a complete listing of editors is impossible. In any event, during early years those listed as editors were local correspondents who changed frequently.

Following is information about ownership of the firm provided in the Corporation Branch files, and the names of Moose Jaw employees who appeared in the newspapers most often as proprietors and editors with, roughly, the periods involved.

Prop. 1949 or 1950-1970, Hometown Publications (Pedro Juan de Metereo); 1970-1977, Hometown Publications (1970) Ltd. (Ron & Joyce Walter); 1978-1982, Hometown Publications (Margaret Crook, Mary Noren et al.).

Ed. 1954, A.W. Lake; Dec. 1954-Sept. 1955, Mrs. A.C. Latham; Oct. 1955-Feb. 1957, Miss M.A. Willcox; ?1957-Apr. 1959, Elizabeth B. Wurmlinger; May 1959-May 1960, Mrs. E.
